

Objectives for CARO 2012

The CARO 2012 Annual Scientific Meeting has been developed to provide an opportunity for participants to interact with colleagues and experts in the field of radiation oncology and radiobiology. This meeting will allow participants to:

- review the impact of biological markers in the treatment of cancer patients.
- provide a platform highlighting Canadian initiated research in cancer care.
- provide an forum for international collaborative research in cancer care.
- provide an opportunity for professional development for members of the health care team involved in cancer care.

Who Should Attend

- Radiation oncologists, Medical physicists, Radiation therapists, Basic Science Researchers, Oncology Nurses, Administrators, as well as their trainees.
- All health care professional involved in the care of oncology patients.